RECare Facts

- Member-funded RECare provides local community action agencies with resources to help low-income members pay for winter heating bills. Each co-op family may receive up to $200 per year for heating assistance. Families with all-electric home heating may receive up to $400 per year.
- RECare funds are also used to help co-op families and individuals with special hardships. Hardships may include disabled or elderly family members, small children under the age of five in household, recent job loss or a medical crisis.
- To qualify for assistance co-op members must apply at their local community action agency for the Low-Income Home Energy Assistance Program (LIHEAP). Even if a family's income may be over the maximum, the co-op member still must apply for LIHEAP. We cannot give RECare funds without the approval of a community action agency.
- Last year our members helped 15 households for an average of almost $250 per household.
